Seemingly, it should be a matter of congratulation to New York that Miss Fuller decided to step off at the home of her nativity on her way to Japan. Her dances-so far as light-and-color-effects go-are wonderful. Nothing so beautiful has ever been seen here, and proba-

I saw her in Paris!" and to rise to their feet and shout uproariously.
One of these persons, who looked like a composite picture of John Mason and Robert Hilliard, and who wore, among other articles, a frockcoat and a yellow chrysanthemum, evidently drew double salary, because he also shouted for Josephine Sabel, a very brunette woman who sang coon songs after Miss Fuller had retired.

Miss Fuler's performance is given in a darkened house, and a conspicuous feature of the entertainment is the lighting of matches by belated comers in order to find the seats assigned them. Some of the belated wandered into the wrong boxes—but that is to be expected under such circumstances.

She was the originator of this dazzling style of color scheme and grace, and China-silk draperies, and all others have proved themselves to be mere imitators, and poor ones at that. So artistic and lovely are Miss.Fuller's mirror and fire dances that it seems a pity the management should deem it necessary to have well-dressed persons before the footlights to call out "Great! heart is displaced about an inch and a half down to the right. The experiment will be watched with the greatest interest throughout the world.

The heart of a dead frog was recently immersed in a solution of common sait and at once began to puisate as it had done in life. "Elixir of Life" was sait combined with glycerine.

The physician making the test at the Almshouse does not care to have his name known at present. The men selected are Henry W. Beerman and John Raney, Beerman is 83 years old. He shows the first signs of dotage and at times weeps for his parents. He was born in Germany and has been sixty years in the United States.

The thorough examination just made shows that he is poorly nourished, gives evidences of emaciation and cannot walk more than half a block at a time. He has hardly any appetite and does not sleep one hour in the twenty-four. He complains of cold, and says he can never get enough blankets to keep him warm. His mind is clear, although he is somewhat slow in understanding questions. He has no delirium and no faillucinations: and when any of them are lacking the trouble begins; the reason Stuart's Dyspepala Tablets are so valuable and successful in curing stomach troubles is because they contain, in a pleasant concentrated tablet form, all these absolutely necessary essentials for perfect digestion and assimilation of tood. Henry Kirkpatrick, of Lawrence, Mass. says: "Men and women whose occupation precludes an active out door life should make it a daily practice to use Stuart's
